ACADEMIC

Adding greatly to Monticello's friendly atmosphere is her popular president, Dr. Duncan Wimpress. Dr. Wimpress came to Monticello in 1959 and since then has added greatly to the school's position among the nation's colleges for women. Monticello has improved tremendously during the year in its advanced curriculum, its stricter admission policy, and its more modern equipment.

Dr. Wimpress and his family, in keeping with the home-like feeling of Monticello, can be seen hosting a student-faculty party at the Cabin or dining with the students on Sunday afternoons. His lovely wife Peggy, and two lively daughters, Wendy and Vicki, are a well-known part of the Monticello scene.

Dr. Wimpress with "Monti" our unofficial mascot.

Begins progressive program

President Wimpress conducts a Semantics Seminar attended by many senior students each Wednesday at the Evergreens.

President greets incoming students.

Board members are, standing: President Wimpress; Edmund Morgenstern, Pres., Robinson Milling Co.; Dr. Robert Anshuetz, physician; James Kellock, VicePres., Wilding Inc.; J. Preston Levis, Chrm. Board, Owens-Illinois Glass Co.; seated: Mrs. John Green, alumna; Mrs. Jay Delano, alumna; M. Ryrie Milnor, Pres., Alton First National Bank; Mrs. George Milnor, alumna; Mrs. Joseph Paper, alumna; Mrs. Theodore Chapman.

Trustees and Administration

In 1960-1961 the Board of Trustees was enthusiastically working on Dr. Wimpress' Program for Progress and the projected plans for adding to the educational facilities at Monticello.

Under the direction of Mrs. Spencer T. Olin, chairman of the Board, the trustees meet three times yearly to study the financial and academic growth of the school.

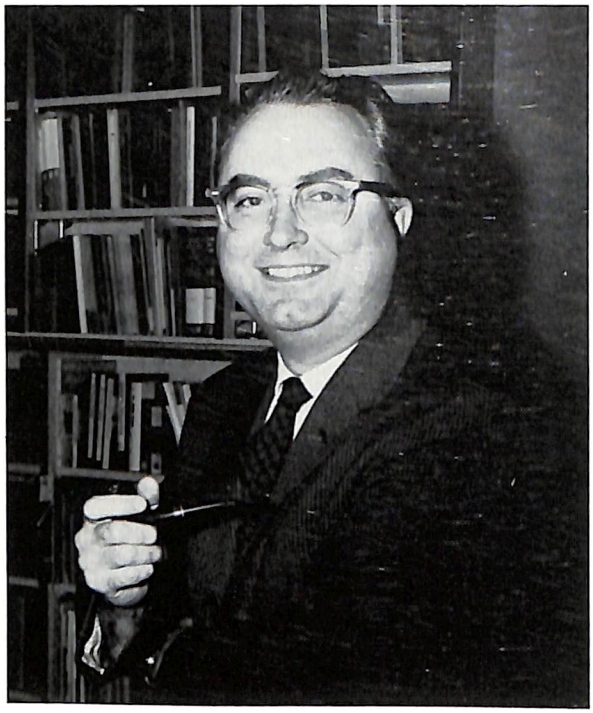
This group of nationally recognized business leaders carries the influence and prestige of Monticello throughout the country.

Building Committee members are: Colonel Goodman, Director of Operational Services; Mr. Louis Heider; Mr. Spencer T. Olin, Director, Olin-Mathieson Chemical Co.; Mrs. Spencer T. Olin, Chairman of the Board; R. M. Milnor; B. E. Bassett, Gen. Mgr., U. S. Defense Corp.; Dr. Wimpress; Mrs. Dorothy Harris; Dr. Anschuetz; and Dr. Myers.

DR. GAIL E. MYERS,
Vice-President

Working for Monti's progress

An extremely versatile person, Dr. Gail E. Myers may be found discussing the quality or size of print used in a Monticello periodical, speaking to the Board of Trustees, or in conference with Dr. Wimpress. His positions as VICE-PRESIDENT of the college, head of the public relations program, and director of our Program for Progress, call for a great deal of time and knowledge. Even though he is an extremely busy person, Dr. Myers is always ready to help the individual student on a school or personal problem.



JOHN D. SCHWEITZER,
Academic Dean

John D. Schweitzer serves as the DEAN OF THE FACULTY at Monticello. Through his efforts, a serious academic life is encouraged. It is his responsibility to aid in the planning and selection of academic courses offered in the college.

During a typically busy day he may be found at work in his office, presiding at the college or preparatory school judicial council, or discussing commencement exercises with a group of students.

In accordance to his position, Dean Schweitzer is responsible for the employment of the faculty, academic work of the students, and the well-being of faculty and students alike.

The Spirit of dedication

MRS. FLORENCE DUREE,
Dean of Students

Perhaps the most difficult phase of college life is in meeting the challenges of the first two years. Mrs. Florence Duree, DEAN OF STUDENTS is the congenial yet firm guide so often relied upon by Monticello women. She seems to represent "a pillar of strength" and is always on call, available for consultation or a friendly chat.

As the adviser to the Junior Class and Junior Committee, Mrs. Duree assists in the preparation and presentation of the G.W.B., and also sponsors the Student Council. In addition, she plans periodical activity schedules with the Social Chairmen and organizes the Sponsor-sponsee program.

MRS. ROBERT SHEWMAN
Director of the Preparatory School

Mrs. Robert Shewman may be found helping students in personal problems, advising the Student Council and the Preparatory School junior class, or joining students in the fun of giving a dance, painting the smoker, or having a barbecue supper. In her official capacity as Director of the Preparatory School, Mrs. Shewman is academic dean, dean of students, and a member of the College Judicial Council. She is involved in setting up the academic curriculum and in the employment of professionally competent faculty members. However, she is never too busy to maintain individual contact with each of the nearly one hundred "prep" students.

Promote interest in Monti

MR. KENNETH BULLMER, keeping in touch with field operations, represents: Montana, Nevada, New Mexico, Oregon, Ohio, North and South Dakota, and Wyoming.

Admissions Office

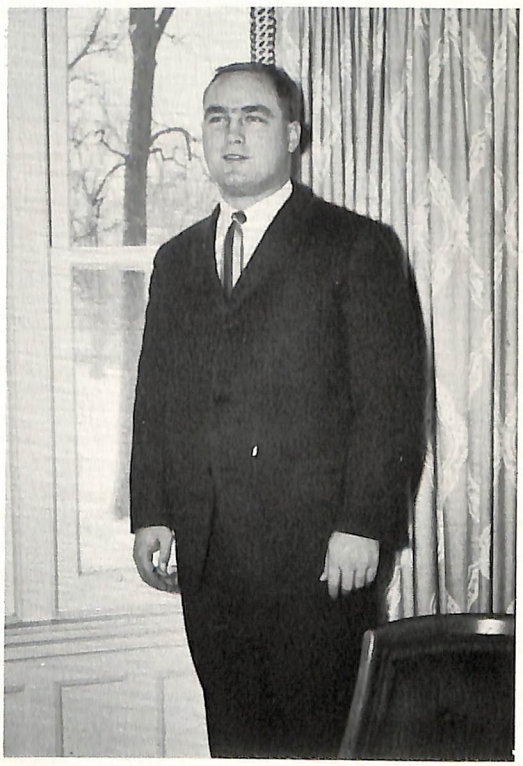
A new decor, a new staff, and a fifty-percent increase in the enrollment, are just a few of the changes made this year, under the supervision of Mr. Kenneth Bullmer, Director of Admissions.

The admissions office is kept perpetually busy, maintaining an active correspondence, with those interested in Monticello. Only a portion of the work is completed on the campus. An equally important half is accomplished on the road by the field counselors. They visit as many as twenty-four schools a week, talking to prospective students and answering their questions.

It is this continuous program that enables Monticello to progress.

MR. GARY VAN AUSDALL, ever personable, represents: Colorado, Florida, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, and Wisconsin.

MR. LOUIS HALL, the Southern Gentleman, represents: Arkansas, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Oklahoma, Missouri, Tennessee, and Texas.



MR. WILLIAM VOLKMAN, busy creating new interest in Monticello, represents: Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, and Wisconsin.

MR. ANTHONY LEVERING, that man from the east, represents: Connecticut, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, New Jersey, and New York.

Guidance and

MRS. HARRIET COOK
Registrar and Director of Guidance

As REGISTRAR AND DIRECTOR OF GUIDANCE Mrs. Cook prepares the transcript records and recommendations for transfer students and planning the testings, adviser-advisee, and master schedules. She also maintains a follow-up study on alumnae who transfer to four year colleges and universities, and gathers research material for statistical studies and other information which benefits both the administrative staff and students.

JOHN W. MURPHY,
Director of Public Information

As DIRECTOR OF PUBLIC INFORMATION Mr. Murphy's duties include notifying press media across the country of Monticello's advancements, student activities, and preparing the Alumnae Bulletin and the Dad's Club Newsletter. He also serves as the faculty adviser to the Times, the campus newspaper, and the Echo, the campus yearbook.

information

As DIRECTOR OF ALUMNAE AFFAIRS, Mrs. Ralph Schmidt maintains a constant correspondence with all Monti alumnae. She is responsible for planning alumnae parties across the United States and for supervising Homecoming and Alum Weekends. This year the alumnae worked with Mrs. Schmidt in a successful drive to receive alum financial support for Monticello from a vast majority of the alumnae group. Mrs. Schmidt is often busy on the campus after hours in such activities as alumnae bake sales or in such non-related job areas as chaperoning a college dance.

MRS. RALPH SCHMIDT,
Director of Alumnae Affairs

MISS SHIRLEE HALL,
Preparatory School Social Director

Miss Shirlee Hall is indeed a busy person as she competently fills her position on campus as PREPARATORY SCHOOL SOCIAL DIRECTOR. In this capacity she may be found at a Western Military School and Prep School combined dance, in an informal group in the smoker, or in a staff meeting. Miss Hall is known and respected by all.

COL. SANFORD J. GOODMAN,
Treasurer and Director of Operational Services

Campus services

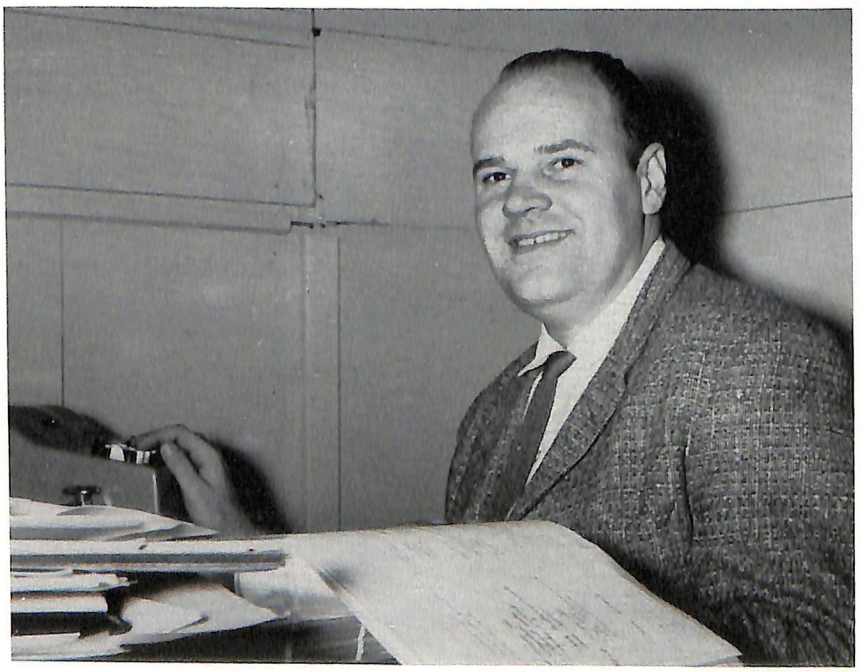
Buried in a mass of circulars, newsletters, and bills we find the Business Office, headed by Col. Sanford Goodman. Most students at Monticello use the banking facilities provided by the Business Office to help the girls keep track of that all-important money from home.

Other college services such as the post office, switchboard, bookstore, cabin, and transportation are handled by this jack-of-all-trades department at Monticello.

Mr. Robert Wharton, the Bursar, is usually found around the adding machine, keeping track of the income and outgo.

At Monti, the Business Office is one of the most valuable organizations on the campus.

MR. ROBERT E. WHARTON,
Bursar



are varied

Among the many services which keep Monti "on the ball" are those offered by the library, the infirmary, and the housekeeping department.

Mrs. John Schweitzer, Monticello's capable librarian, is always ready to help students in their selection of books and reference material.

Any student who has ever needed help during an illness will always be grateful for the modern facilities of the infirmary and the loving personal care given by Mrs. David Findley and her assistant, Mrs. Florence Pelot.

The housekeeping department, headed by Miss Alvena Closson, is a vital part of Monticello's clean and impressive appearance. Thanks to Miss Closson and her staff the school is always kept neat and orderly.

MRS. MARGARET CICHLAR,
Secretary to the Vice-President

Monticello could never get along without the efficiency and smooth-working cooperation of the various secretaries and the switchboard operator. It is their able assistance to the administrative staff that enables the school to function properly from day to day.

The secretaries and the switchboard operator are in a great measure responsible for Monti's friendly appearance before the public. They are our voice and face with a smile—answering calls, coordinating mail, and receiving visitors.

MRS. DOROTHY HARRIS,
Administrative Assistant

MRS. JACQUELINE SWEENEY
Secretary to the Dean

Campus activities

MRS. MOODY,
MRS. KINKAID

One spot frequented by all Monti girls is the school bookstore managed by Miss Marjorie Dietiker and Mrs. Elizabeth Habekost. It is a convenient place for students to buy supplies, reading material, and gifts.

Another locale with which all students rapidly become acquainted is the Cabin, run by Mr. and Mrs. Edward Moody. The girls are always greeted by a warm and friendly atmosphere and Mrs. Moody's delicious home-cooked food.

The dieticians who supervise the dining room and waitresses are Mrs. Clarence Montroy and Mrs. Irene Propst. They are responsible for our fine menus and the neat appearance of the dining room.

MISS DIETIKER, Manager of the Bookstore and MRS. HABEKOST, Assistant

MRS. MONTROY, assistant, and MRS. PROPST, director of the college dining hall.

Faculty

ART! The freedom of expression

Included in the curriculum of the art department are not only the fundamental principles of art for the beginner, but also advanced techniques for more skilled students. Appreciation of art as well as biographies of famed artists are also discussed.

The department is fortunate in having as its instructors accomplished artists in their own rights. Several of the faculty's works have appeared in art exhibitions throughout the Middle West.

MISS NANCY J. HINES,
B.A., M.A.
Instructor in Speech

The speech department is of considerable importance at Monticello. Its aims are to instill in students the proper enunciation and correct methods of presenting ideas before an audience. Class speeches are one of the main sources of instruction. Play production is helpful for the students as well as enjoyable to those who come to watch.

Monticello's music department offers to its students opportunities in several areas of music. To those interested, both instrumental and vocal lessons are available. Girls are also invited to participate in school choral groups and in civic musical activities. A course in music appreciation is offered so that students may gain a wider appreciation of music.

opportunities for learning

English—the dress of thought—is essential for communication of ideas. Thus it is vitally important that students learn the fundamentals of grammar composition, writing, and vocabulary. These are the goals which Monticello's English department strives to accomplish. Through these studies the students learn to develop their skills aptly in the written and spoken language and to appreciate their heritage of literature.

The small classes at Monticello give the students ample opportunity to express themselves in written and spoken forms. There are no shrinking violets at this school.

Pathway to communication

MRS. GLORIA SHIFF,
B.S.
Instructor in French

MR. HERBERT WOODBURY,
A.B., M.A.
Instructor in French

French and Spanish were taught in the language department this year. The department boasts of much equipment with which to help the student gain a wider and more accurate knowledge of the tongue she is studying. The use of the listening and speaking booths, foreign records and magazines, along with lectures and classroom discussions, aids the linguists in gaining a broader background for their chosen language.

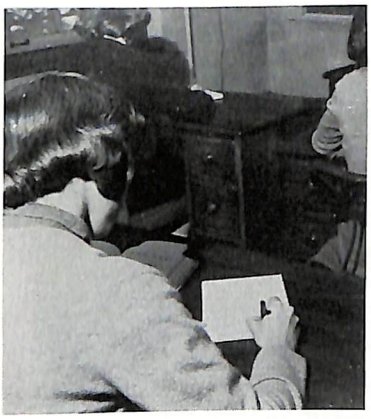
Skills in office and home

MISS CAROL CARSKADON,
B.S.
Instructor in Secretarial Science



Typewriter bells pealed fateful warnings in the midst of unsyllabifable words. In carrying out duties which constitute routine measures of future office workers, the Secretarial Science department previews the business world. Under the direction of Miss Carol Carskadon, the girls find a repeated insistence upon speed, accuracy, neatness, and responsibility.

MRS. JEAN GRANFIELD,
B.Ed.
Chairman of Home Economics Department

Preparation for gracious living in the home is the goal of the Home Economics Department at Monticello. The student can expand her interest in interior design or fashion coordination; she may also learn the niceties of living that make "a house a home." To every girl who studies in this department there comes the realization of the true purpose of womanhood.

MISS BETTY J. DRAYER,
B.S., M.S.
Instructor in Social Science

In our world of today it seems almost imperative that we gain an insight into present day affairs with a clear understanding of why and how they happen. The social science courses at Monticello are purposely aimed toward giving students acknowledgment of these principles and also different ways for students to express views and opinions both subjectively and objectively.

Instructor in Physical Education

The Physical Education Instructors strive to develop in each of their students leadership, compatability, sportsmanship, physical fitness, and mental alertness. The means to this end is a carefully selected series of sports offered to the girls. Any student may try her skill in such fields as tennis, softball, swimming, basketball, and riding.

The department was thrilled this year by the prospect of a new Physical Education Center to be built on the campus for use in 1962.

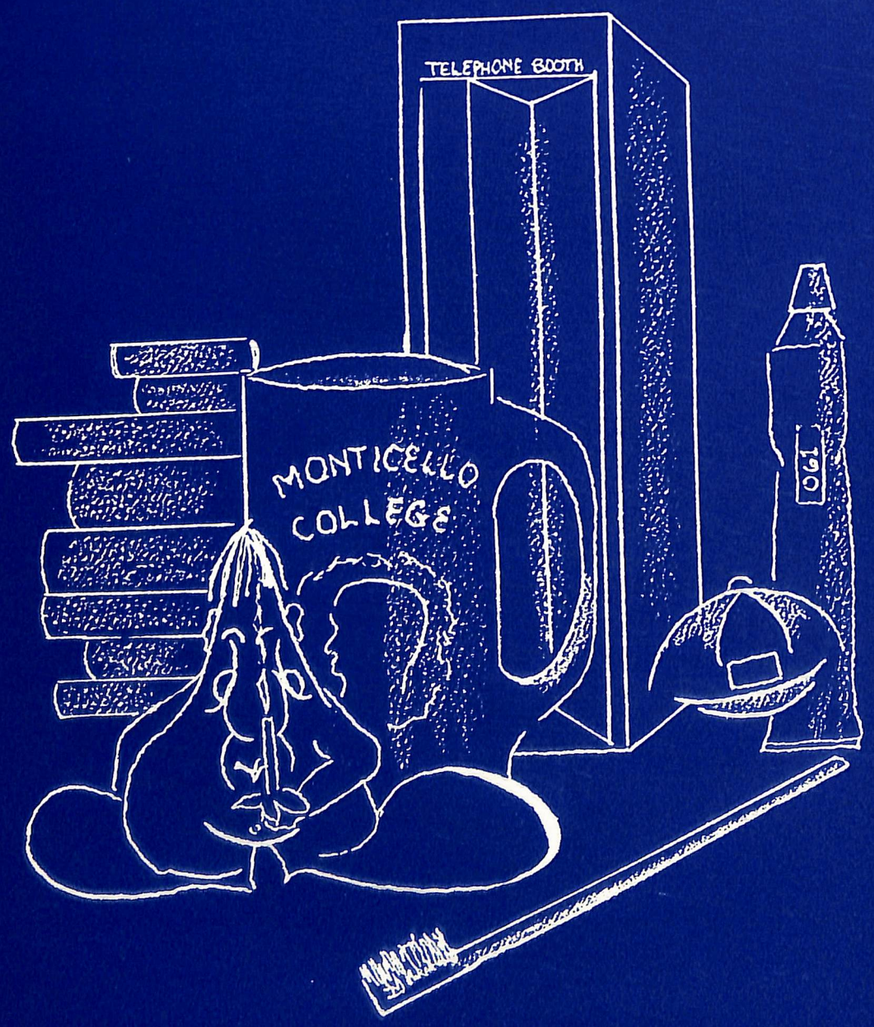
New academic programs

Participants in the Honors Course are: Tena Ward; Miss Betty Drayer; Dianne Wall; Judy Peterson; Dr. Wolfgang Pauli; and Dean John D. Schweitzer.

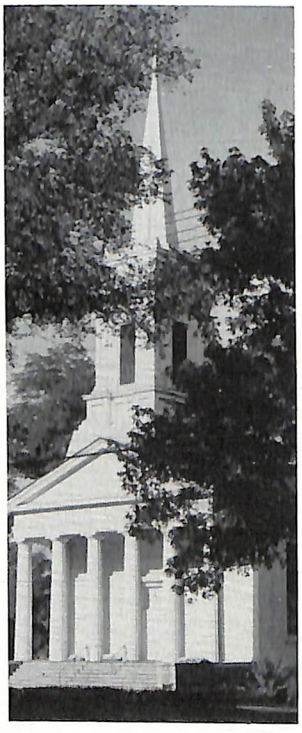
A part of the Monticello academic program which is unique among junior colleges is the Honors and Semantics course. The Honors course is offered to senior students whose grade average and character have been accepted by a faculty committee. The Honors program is designed to enable the student to apply knowledge of her field of interest to the problems of academic discipline.

President Wimpress conducts the weekly Semantics Seminar, discussing the influence of mass media upon our lives and the effect of the "right word in the right place." The seminar is open to any interested senior student and is enthusiastically supported every year.

An informal seminar on semantics in the President's home.



THE COLLEGE



The Seven Ideals represent that well-known phenomenon, the Monti girl. With the Seven Ideals to guide her—Beauty, Democracy, Dignity, Friendship, Loyalty, Service, and Wisdom—each girl becomes a truly gracious woman. The Senior Class has chosen these seven girls as true representatives of the qualities learned at Monticello.

The Seven Ideals are pictured in the Missouri Botanical Gardens' Climatron in St. Louis.

Orientation

We all look forward to September because it is significant to us of the excitement and joy of returning to school, or in some cases, taking our first big step toward education. As another year at Monticello rolls around, the girls are thrown into a turmoil of receptions, sponsor spreads, and dinners planned to acquaint new students with the old.

Another successful Orientation week and another year full of prosperity and meaningfulness is begun and ended at Monti.

Junior-Senior Week arrives

From the terrifying announcement late one night in the smoker that the juniors were to begin observing such events as Beatnik Day, and Backwards Day through THE TEST and the announcement of the secret Heavenly Eleven, Junior-Senior Week was a success for both classes. The seniors "kept things under control" while the juniors grew to be a more unified class. Everyone had fun and learned more about Monticello and its traditions in the process. Congratulations to both classes for a job well done . . .

Everything is backwards!

Christmas brings

Monticello is again thrown into the Christmas spirit with the sound of old-time carols, the display of colorful decorations, and the season's greetings. This busy time involves the decorating of the smoker as a surprise from the seniors to the juniors, buying of dolls for the annual Doll Dinner, or making plans for the Christmas Dance.

Perhaps the biggest thrill is the Christmas Play presented by drama students for the college and for orphans from the Alton area. This year the play was "Greensleeves Magic." This just another way to instill the true Christmas spirit in each Monti girl.

Traditional Recognition Service

Another historic tradition at Monticello is the presentation of the George Washington Banquet by the College Junior Class. Highlights of the event include the minuet, the speeches and toasts presented at dinner, the presentation of charms to the seniors, and the moment when the seniors learn the theme.

This year's theme was "A Night in New York." The dining room featured Broadway shows, the Merry-Go-Round was a coffee house, and the gymnasium was a hotel ballroom. The George Washington Banquet, made possible by the hours of planning by the Junior Committee, is enjoyed by nearly 500 persons.

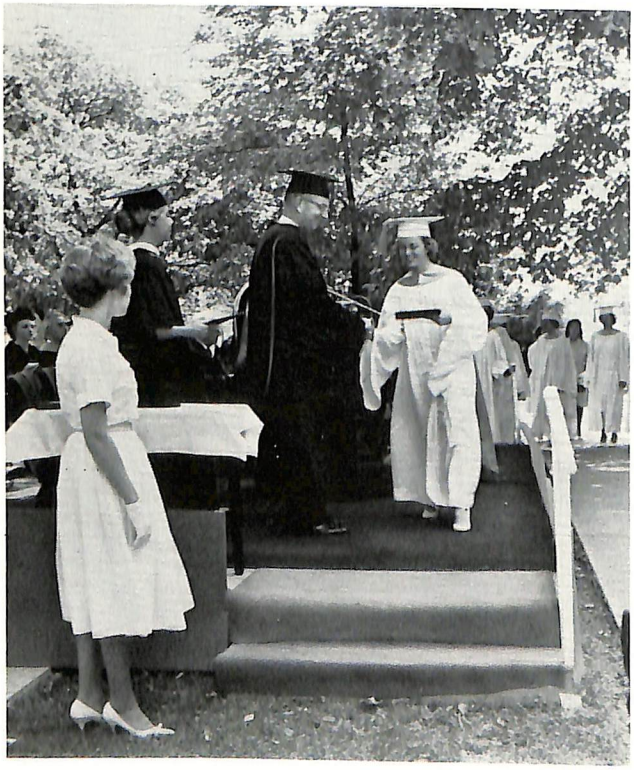
As President Duncan Wimpress presents each graduating student with her diploma, one more year has come to an end at Monticello.

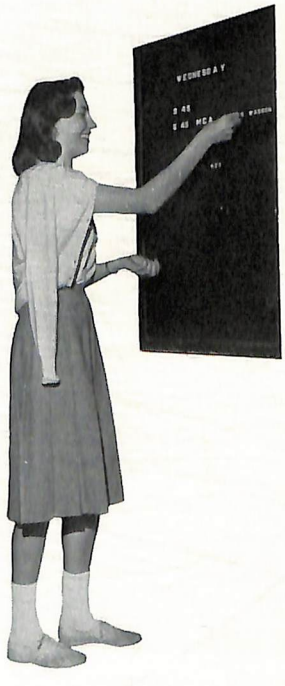
Though it is the end of the familiar routine of sleepless nights and late term papers, commencement is also the end of many close relationships with instructors and fellow students. More than this, graduation is a milestone in our lives, symbolizing the culmination of two-years' study and struggle. The degree we receive represents an achievement in the growth toward womanhood.

A highlight of the tradition-filled weekend is Class Day, during which Juniors robe the Seniors and another link is added, literally and figuratively, to the silver class chain. So as the song says, "a part of every heart will linger here."

A Day to Remember



Organization



Our Example of Democracy

Seated: Sherry Veller, Suzy Seaman, Judy Peterson, Suzanne Hayes, Nancy Dobler, and Letty MacWhirter. Standing: Marilyn Kerry, Connie Sanders, Sherry Hubbard, Dianne Wall, Carol Stevens, Susan Crocker, Linda Hoffman, Betsy Beard, Isabel Burnham, Judy Ehnen, and Anne Grahm.

Suzanne Hayes, President, prepares to conduct a meeting.

Student Council

Monticello Student Council represents student democracy in action. The governing body serves as a recommending group, a student legislature, and a disciplinary council.

Every student is a member of "Stuco," but the governing body consists of the class and club presidents, the house council, the social and sponsor chairmen, and the editors of campus publications. The officers are elected by the student body.

The Student Council co-ordinates student government and activity programs. Mrs. Florence Duree, Dean of Students, serves as the faculty adviser.

Promoting Christian Service

MCA

Through the Monticello Christian Association, a great majority of the Student body adds to their spiritual and social experience through attending lectures by people who are prominent in diversified fields and through participating in group activities such as charity drives and hospital visitations. MCA, the student service group in the Alton community, is headed by a board of preparatory school and college students elected by the student body. In addition to organizing and sponsoring the major activities above, the board assists with all vesper and chapel program plans. A highlight this year was a series of lectures on the subject of "Marriage and the Church." There were also several cabin parties given by the organization.

Karen Mikleson, Vice-President, and Letty MacWhirter, President, discuss Doll Dinner Plans.

Governing Bodies

MEMBERS, seated: Suzanne Hayes, Sherry Veller, Judy Peterson, President, Susan Crocker, and Letty MacWhirter; standing: Susan Herbel and Betsey Beard.

Honor Board

Monticello functions under an academic Honor Code which places individual emphasis on personal trustworthiness. The Honor Board's responsibility is to maintain academic integrity and to investigate violations of the Honor Code. The board is composed of the president of Monticello Christian Association, the sponsor chairman, the president and vice-president of the junior class, the president of the senior class, and the president of Student Council. The vice-president of "Stuco" serves as president.

House Council

The purpose of House Council is the interpretation and enforcement of the rules governing dormitory life. Offenders appear before the council which then determines appropriate disciplinary action. The council is composed of two senior chairmen, the vice-president of Student Council, the vice-president of the junior class, and the floor proctors.

MEMBERS, seated: Judy Peterson, Anne Grahm, Co-chairman; Nancy Dobler, Co-chairman; and Sue Herbel; standing: Brooke Smythe, Anne Donovan, Nancy Mazzorana, Bonnie Beaton, and Carol Durr.

Social Cabinet

The Social Committee, guided by the Social Chairmen elected by the student body, is responsible for much of the life and fun that is a part of Monticello. The committee arranges the social program from carefully planned formal dances to short-notice parties in the Smoker. Throughout the year they arrange Saturday night mixers, trips to St. Louis, and various other activities, all of which add fun to the student's life.

Drama Club

The Drama Club promotes dramatic interest throughout Monticello. This group assists in producing a number of plays for the entertainment of the student body each year. A self-sufficient organization, the dramatists learn the techniques of makeup application, construct their own stage settings, and make almost all of the costumes themselves.

DRAMA CLUB MEMBERS are, first row: B. Smythe, N. Chandler, A. Browne, President; C. Scoular; second row: G. Winterbotham, C. McCartney, D. Silberberger, N. Richmond, R. Coldiron, K. Greer, B. Blust, L. Pillinger, L. MacWhirter, J. Metzer; third row: J. Decker, A. Westcoat, A. Dighton, B. Campbell, A. Carson, S. Bishop, C. Allen, B. Sigman, J. Kinkaid, C. Kohl, B. Scarlett, and P. English.

Honor Society Gains Members

Ten students, four seniors and six juniors, were elected to membership this year in the Eta Xi chapter of Phi Theta Kappa, the national junior college honor society. Phi Theta Kappa chooses its initiates on the basis of their grade average and general good citizenship. These members represent the top ten percent of their school scholastically. Membership in the organization is one of the highest honors which can be bestowed upon a student at Monticello.

New members are initiated in a formal candelight ceremony conducted in the Reception Rooms.

Loyalty and Service

Tri-Key

Promoting loyalty, friendship, and service is the triple purpose of Tri-Key. The council accomplishes this through various means. Members work with the Admissions Office to familiarize prospective students with the college, which includes serving as hostesses to prospective students visiting the campus. Another function of Tri-Key is promoting good public relations with Alton business associations. A new and very important duty of Tri-Key is the authorship of a handbook which is sent to all new students upon acceptance.

TRI-KEY OFFICERS: Bettie Robinson, Secretary; Marilyn Kerry, President; Cindy Scoular, Vice-President.

Numerous, nervous, sleepless students and deadlines tnat determine a flunking grade or the yearbook's success are only a part of the production of The Echo. The Echo, in keeping with its title, is a complete record of the activities of a year at Monticello. Events from impromptu socials to formal banquets and dances are pictured. In addition, it is a record of the staff, faculty, and students who have made the school year a success.

The members of the various staffs enjoy many activities such as a final banquet and a trip to the Associated Collegiate Press National Conference in Chicago. A rewarding experience, intellectually and socially, is full participation in The Echo group.

Choir serenades student body

"Angels are heard on high" as this vocal group contributes to the enjoyment of Sunday vesper services at Monti. Composed of both junior and senior students who are interested in singing, the Monticello Choir is directed by Miss Prudence Bussy. Through the choir, the girls are provided with an opportunity to develop their voices and to perform publicly in the combined Alton and St. Louis areas.

Three times three equals the number of seniors who comprise TRIPLE TRIO. Members are Marilyn Kerry, Brooke Smythe, Suzanne Hayes, Sherry Veller, Anne Donovan, Ann Browne, Sherry Hubbard, Lana Ballard, and Georgiann Rockenbach.

L. Ferguson, Lynn Weiss, Chris Jackel, Jo Bunch, Charlotte McManus, Susan Simanek, and Mary Baumann.

Young Republicans

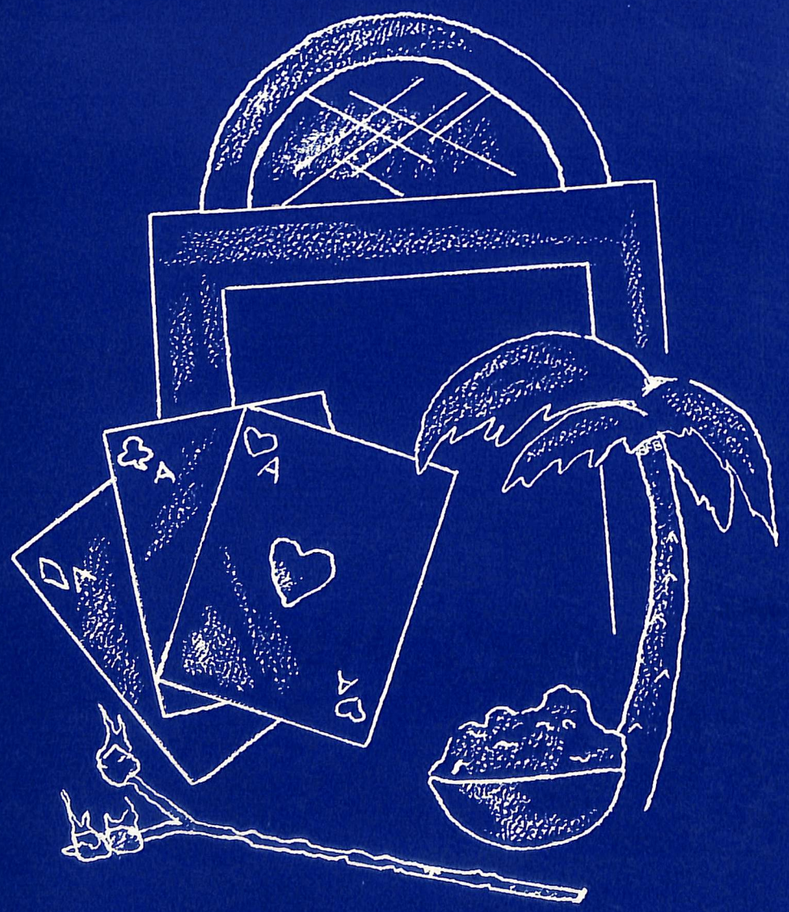
A new and highly successful organization at Monticello this year was a group called the Young Republicans. This group consists of College and Preparatory School students and is affiliated with the national Young Republicans organization.

The members of the organization follow their constitution which states their aims to gain more knowledge of politics and to study the standards and goals of the political parties.

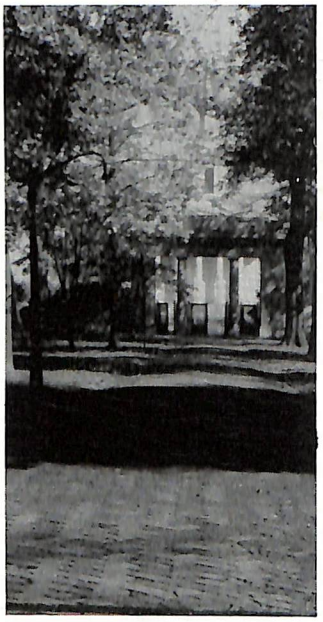
COMMITTEE: Sherry Hubbard, Nancy Dobler, and Anne Donovan.

Food Committee

The Food Committee, headed by Colonel Goodman, consists of three college seniors, two preparatory school seniors, one faculty and one administrative staff member. They aid in planning meals and having a pleasant dining room atmosphere. Although they try to follow the wants and suggestions of the students and the faculty, they have an almost impossible task of pleasing everyone.



PREPARATORY SCHOOL



Each year the Preparatory School seniors choose a girl to exemplify each of the five qualities of a Monti girl. "That must be a Monti girl" is an approving comment often made by area residents. How they know remains an unanswered question. The following pages pictorially tell how Beauty, Knowledge, Personality, Service, and Versatility make a Monti girl.

Hall of Fame photographs were taken in the St. Louis Climatron.

Knowledge Elaine Campbell

Personality Linda Packard

Preps Present Melodrama

The Preparatory School play "Night Must Fall" by Emlyn Williams was a murder mystery centered around an old woman's eccentricity. Kim Spezzano, student director, and Miss Nancy Hines, sponsor of the Drama Club, directed the play.

The many long hours of sleep lost over memorizing lines proved well worth the effort to all who appeared in the play.

"1, 2, 3, bow . . . TOGETHER! ! !"

Preps on the Move

Tell him sweet nothings.

Freckles, blue jeans, corn cob pipes, and a human coffee-making machine are all well-remembered by everyone who attended the informal Sadie Hawkins Dance. This lively evening was sponsored by the Senior class as a fund-raising project to help support the Senior class gift.

But . . . honey!

"I'd pass."

"Among my souvenirs . . . "

Paradise Found

"All ashore!" As the sixty couples came down the gangplank to attend the Winter Formal, they were met by four "Hawaiian" girls who presented them with leis. One more step, and they were "Strangers in Paradise."

The sea mural, grass hut, and stone wall created a south sea island atmosphere. The planning by the Social Board, and the aching backs of Preps who helped decorate the gym proved well worth the effort.

Dix—huit diamonds.

The "chicken"

Sophisticated

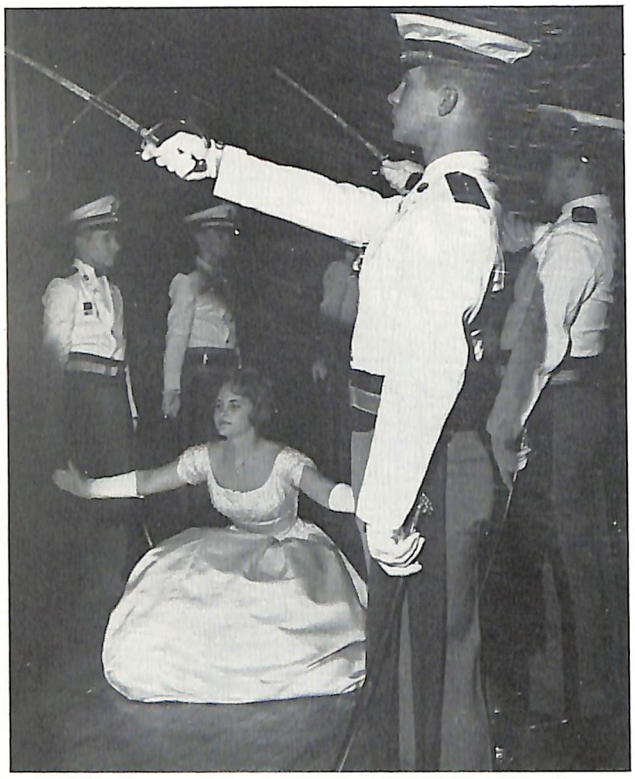
The faculty party is an event that will long be remembered by both students and faculty. Textbooks abandoned for the evening in favor of lighter pursuits brought about such memorable happenings as Mr. Woodbury being beaten at bridge, Miss Sooby learning the "chicken," and a dancing exhibition by Mr. Shewman. In spite of too many cokes and marshmallows, and too much popcorn, a wonderful time was had by all.

My marshmallow's on fire!!!

The "twist" . . .

Faculty "Rocks"

This is the "bop"???



Military Ball

One of the highlights of Monti's social year is the Military Ball at Western Military Academy. The crownings of a queen and two princesses were the biggest events of the Ball.

The Ball was held in Western's gymnasium. Decorations consisted of red, white and blue banners which were strung throughout the gym.

Pausing on her walk through the sabre archway, Jennifer Singer, Military Ball Attendant, bows to the crowd.

Christmas!

Santa Claus rides again! Presents, people and punch made this year's traditional party a complete success. From "mumu's" to magazines, sweaters to shower caps, all displayed the typical Yuletide spirit. St. Nick industriously distributed the gaily wrapped packages to the Haskell and Baldwin girls. While opening gifts, some girls were delighted, shocked, puzzled, or in complete awe of the mysterious contents. The spirit of Christmas, however, was contained in every gift. Festivities such as this typify a campus Christmas.

Monticello

"It'll be simple! All we need is a paint brush and some paint." Taking advice from one who knows, painting is not that simple.

The Baldwin girls can still be seen with blue paint on their levis and sweatshirts, and one would think, having observed this, that the girls had more paint on themselves than in the smoker itself. However, it was well done, and the credit lies on Baldwin walls.

Preps Paint a Blue Heaven

Tears Blur Commencement

With the strains of the March from "Aida" blasting across the front lawn, the seniors received the traditional red roses in front of Caldwell steps, and Commencement Weekend had begun. Under the age-old Maple trees on the east campus, fifty Preparatory students stepped forward to receive their diplomas. Happy because they had reached a goal, the graduates' faces were shadowed with sadness at the thought of leaving Monticello and their friends.

Stuco Represents Students

The officers of Student Council are elected by popular vote. The other members of Stuco, as the council is often called, are representatives of various clubs and organizations on campus. Stuco works to enforce rules, transact business, and represent the general interests of the students. The council functions under the guidance of Mrs. Robert Shewman.

Councils Aid Dorm Life

The House Councils are composed of the house president, vice-president, floor proctors, and house mothers of each dormitory. Helping the girls and enforcing the dormitory rules are the main functions of the Councils. When a serious infraction of the rules occurs, the House Councils administer corrective measures to help the girls toward better citizenship.

National Honor Society

The Ann Whitney Olin chapter of the National Honor Society is an honorary scholastic and service organization. The members with Miss Betty Jean Drayer, their sponsor, are the leaders in upholding the honor system of Monticello. Eligibility for membership is based on scholarship, leadership, character, and service. New members are announced at Honor Roll Dinners, each quarter.

Two Aspects of Campus Life

Social Board

The social chairmen are chosen by the student body. They plan everything from beautiful winter formals to bubbling popcorn parties. Early in the year they plan a mixer or "mix up" as it is commonly called, to introduce Monti to Western Military Academy. The chairmen also plan trips to St. Louis, make arrangements for the students to see the new plays, and to see the Ice Follies. All in all, the social chairmen make the year lively, exciting and gay. Miss Shirlee Hall, with her sparkling personality and love of fun, sponsors the Social Board.

MEMBERS ARE, kneeling: Sue Vickers, Nancy Seacrest, Jean Borlaug; sitting: Ginger Everett, Sue Hunter, Drew Brandel, Dorothy Ferguson, Pat Tobin.

Spanish Club Provides Fun

Those who join Spanish Club are interested in Spanish people, their customs, and their language. Different types of entertainment are planned for the monthly meetings. Guest speakers, cooking Mexican food, breaking piñatas and singing Spanish songs are all a part of their fun. The club is sponsored by Dr. Paul Cook. ¿Entiende usted el español?

Drama Club Attracts Many

Drama Club is composed of girls who want to learn more about the theatre. They read through several plays and compare them. The girls learn the arts of acting, make-up, and stage crew. In the Spring, the club, with the assistance of the sponsor Miss Nancy Hines, puts their knowledge to work by presenting a play to the entire student body.

"Where's my ruler?" "Who took the dummy book?" "Somebody give me a pencil!" These are some of the cries that echo throughout Caldwell 106. Many long hours are spent at layout, typing and writing, correcting mishaps, and creating new ideas to make the 1961 Echo a better yearbook.

At last, with many sighs of relief, the book is completed in a sparkling blue and white package.

"No articles, no paper!" One of the most exciting events of the month for Monti students is the appearance of the Times. Editorials, letters to the editor, gossip columns, and campus news are types of articles that make the Times so enjoyable to read. Editor Jean Borlaug and adviser Mr. John Murphy spend many long hours making last minute checks before the paper goes to press. Much hard work and planning, and an abundance of ingenuity is spent by the staff to produce the Times.

Ensemble Sings Up a Storm

Walking through the halls of Febes, one can hear the sometimes strange but harmonious sounds of the Prep Ensemble at rehearsal. Though the sessions may seem long and drawn out, the results are well worth it, as all are delighted at the spotless performances of the group at the Candlelight Service, and the program in the Spring.

MCA Sponsors Charity Work

Monticello Christian Association is a religious service organization. Some of its main functions are the Christmas Doll Dinner, the United Fund Drive, clothing drives for the needy, and the annual Easter Egg Hunt. Lecturers talk to the group on the religious aspects of life. The sponsor for this group is Miss Margaret Marlow.

Booster Club Boosts Morale

The Booster Club is continuous from one year to the next. Each year the club members choose new members, and their choice is approved by the faculty. The club's main functions are to boost the morale, and to help the admissions office by showing guests around the campus. They also sponsor Pre-Monti Weekend which is held in the Spring for students interested in coming to Monti. The pep and go of the Booster Club helps to keep all Monti girls happy. Mr. Bullmer, with his spirit and drive, is the club's sponsor.

President Judy Sincler talks with Mr. Bullmer.

PREPOSTEROUS STAFF, standing: Carole Honnold, Sue Hesse, Jayne Galley, Winky Houle, Cheryl Aber, and Barbara Bruce. Seated: Judy Sincler, Peggy Pedigo, CaMary Berry, Sue Stoever, and Marcia Scott.

Preps Praise Preposterous

The hardworking staff of the Preposterous, headed by CaMary Berry and under the able supervision of Miss Nancy Hines, keeps the Preparatory School well informed on the activities in the school. With their "Senior Spotlight" they have helped to better acquaint the students with one another as well as bring some humor into our lives with their "Orchids and Onions" and their "Snoop" column.

Alums Return

The "alums" return for a weekend in the spring and fall of each year for a look at their old school and most are pleased to find Monticello upholding the same traditions they were accustomed to as students.

This year a number of alumnae attended the first annual Alumnae Seminar of Monticello College. The purpose of this reunion was to present an academic program which would inform the alumnae of the latest advancements in the field of education.

The success of this seminar assures it a permanent position along with the annual alum weekends.

Campus Programs and St. Louis

Cultural activities play an important part at Monti. Campus assemblies feature musicians, lecturers, and films. Faculty members often present special interest programs.

St. Louis cultural events of interest include the theater, opera series, and visits to the art museums. St. Louis shopping sprees, dating fun, and travel dot students' calendars.

Ballad singer John Winn thrills students and Alton guests.

Annual Dinner With

A favorite tradition in the observance of the yuletide season at Monticello is the Christian Association's Doll Dinner. Established by Miss Harriett Newell Haskell as a small luncheon to which students brought handmade dolls for distribution at nearby childrens homes and hospitals, Doll Dinner has grown to be both an elaborate and beautiful affair. Weeks of preparation are spent in decorating the dining room and library and in choosing and arranging the dolls for display. At dinner prizes are awarded for the best dolls which are later exhibited in the library.

Several alumnae continue to send dolls for the MCA collection. All dolls are given to orphanages and welfare organizations.

Gayle Rogan unpacks and looks over some of the 500 dolls collected this year.

the Dolls

Dr. Wimpress shows one of eight winning dolls to faculty, friends, and students at the Doll Dinner.

Dolls from Princess Grace of Monaco and Mrs. Richard Nixon were among those exhibited by Karen Mikelson, Doll Dinner Chairman.

"Well, isn't that funny-looking," was a common comment by viewers of the doll display in the library.

Rockin' Docs Entertain

You bid four no trump on that?

The one chance for Monticello students to see their beloved faculty "let their hair down" in public came the night of President and Mrs. Wimpress's cabin party. Those perennial favorites, the Rockin' Docs (Dr. Wimpress, Dr. Myers, and Dr. Oldham) were on hand to provide the music—all time hits, such as "Temptation" and "April Love." Mrs. Robert Shewman sang a few songs to the delight of the girls. It was here that many close friendships were formed between the faculty and students.

This was a big year in the entertainment field for Monticello students. Only on rare occasions does the faculty offer Monticello a show of talent the likes of which the world has never seen. The college and preparatory school gathered for the Faculty Follies, which presented the story of their generation from the Roaring Twenties to the Flighty Fifties. Students were surprised to learn that the faculty can "rock" as well as Charleston.

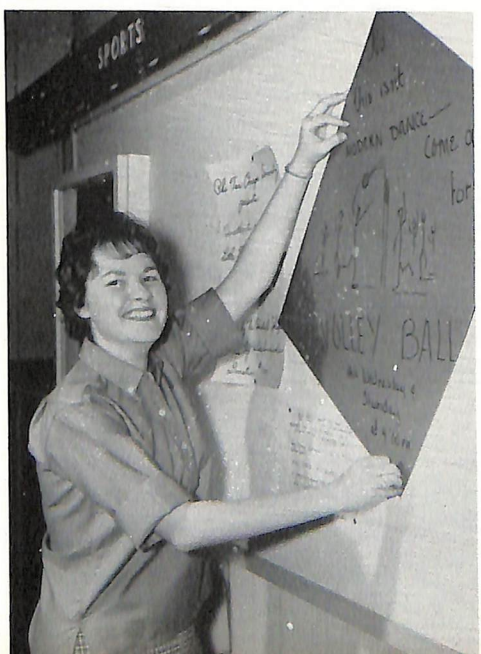
Sports

MRA CABINET MEMBERS are: Dianne Wall, Carolyn Dix, Madge John, Ann Browne, Linda Hoffman, Susan Crocker, Bobby Thies, Georgiann Rockenbach, and Anne Donovan.

New Sports Added to Program

For those girls who feel like "getting rid of steam and excess energy," the Monticello Recreation Association provides them with the perfect opportunity to do so. Offering hockey, basketball, volleyball, and softball as major sports, the girls are able to develop themselves physically and to become more proficient and skilled in the field of athletics. A new and important development was noted this year with the organization of a bowling club and a modern dance club. Some intercollegiate games are arranged with various colleges throughout the year. The year is climaxed by a formal banquet in which awards are presented to the girls who have shown themselves to be outstanding athletes.

MRA President
LINDA HOFFMAN



Monti Versus Principia

The Monticello hockey team, sponsored by Miss Goodwin, this year had the distinction of being the first team to score against the formidable Principia hockey team. Although Principia won the game 9-2, two goals were made by Caroline Dix, center forward.

Cheers . . . Team Spirit . . .

Monti's basketball team finished the season with an impressive record. Ever ready to meet an opponent, the team lost an exciting and close game to Principia. The Prep team played Marquette school and made a fine showing for the Monticello Recreation Association.

and Victory

Volleyball was the dominant sport from the latter part of February to April. A highlight of the season was the faculty-senior game played in March. The Monticello team also participated in games with other colleges.

In the Swim

Marlin Club is a group consisting of students who are interested in increasing their ability in various phases of synchronized swimming. The members are chosen during the first of the school year after passing a test in swimming skill.

Members have participated in the Ozark regional meets of the American Athletic Union in St. Louis, in which several of them won recognition. The group's experience is displayed through group water ballet, comedy acts, and solos in an annual water pageant presented in March.

Taking advantage of both the indoor and outdoor riding rings and sponsoring several equestrian shows at the Monticello stables, the Highlanders enjoy the full life offered to them by their activities. This group is the combined preparatory school and college riding club directed by Dianne Wall, President, and Mr. Robert Shewman, adviser. In addition to the fall and spring shows at the Monti stables, the group attends and participates in many equestrian events in the St. Louis area, often returning with a number of ribbons, indicating they represented Monti well.

Now that the many months of lost rulers, missing photographs, and misplaced copy have drawn to a close, our feelings have changed from those of frustration, to relief and satisfaction that the yearbook is completed.

It would be impossible to explain everything that has gone on behind the scenes in the production of the Echo. We've had our problems.

The late deadlines had a way of falling at the times when we were at our busiest with exams and term papers. After numerous long trips to sharpen the few pencils we could find, we were greeted by a shiny new pencil sharpener on the wall during the last week of our final deadline.

We also had our share of fun. Who among the Times and Echo staffs traveling to Chicago to attend the Associated Collegiate Press conference can forget Elaine Campbell yelling "Watch your step, please!"

It would take pages to list each staff member who devoted hard work and much time to help put out the Echo. However, special recognition is due Neosha Chandler, Advertising Manager, who far exceeded the original quota for her section.

Special thanks are also due Mr. Paeltz and Mr. Gravemann, chief photographers for the Echo, and Mr. Neal Thompson, our yearbook representative, who waited patiently for pages which were very slow in being completed. Mr. Murphy, our adviser, was ALMOST always there when we needed him, to approve or criticize pages, or merely lend moral support. We couldn't have done it without him.

In the 1961 Echo we have tried to capture a little of Monti's tradition, but mostly the spirit and dedication of the People who give Monticello its distinctive atmosphere. From its beginning as a dream in 1835, Monticello has been blessed with People determined to show that "when you educate man you educate an individual; when you educate a woman you educate a family." This year has been no exception.

It is to these People, inspiring and creating the matchless progressive spirit of Monticello, to whom this yearbook is dedicated. If we have succeeded in our goal, then the many flunked exams and the lost hours of sleep will not have been in vain.

Off to the Highlands.
